

The Cornerstone

Volume 24, Issue 1

January 14th, 2020

Tau Beta Pi
The Engineering Honor Society

Letter from the Editor

Welcome back Tau Bates, and happy Tau Beta Pituesday! That’s right, Tau Beta Pituesdays are here to stay (or at least for another semester), and I sure hope you’re dressed for it.

I’m Marianne, your historian for the semester! Look around, and you might notice that I’m not here today. Sorry! I’ll be doing math research in my TBP gear and sending good vibes to you through the Vibes dimension and the Cornerstone every TBPituesday this semester. Some things you’ll see on these pages this winter are more dogs, possibly cats, about the same number of sudoku puzzles, a new TBirthdaysP section (coming soon), and a new handy-dandy Meeting Takeaway section, where you’ll find a brief list of the important links and reminders from the officers’ announcements that you can reference later.

Please direct all memes, dog/cat/fish/squirrel pics, suggestions, questions, or compliments to tbp.historian@umich.edu, where I’ll get it. Please don’t send me critiques unless you’re okay with making me cry. (Just kidding.)

Blue Skies!
Marianne

Welcome, fresh actives! Can you find yourself in this not-too-old pic?
