Letter from the Historian

Welcome back Tau Bates! Congratulations to the newly initiated actives – you finally get to see what happens at these super secret actives meetings. We are all looking forward to (hopefully) moving towards a more normal semester as we continue to provide both in person and virtual opportunities.

My name is Arjun, and I will be your historian and therefore Cornerstone writer for this semester! If you have any suggestions or additions you would like to see, let me know at tbp.historian@umich.edu.

Here's to a great semester!
Arjun Sundararajan

“One Minute Read” (Name in Progress)

In the past, TBP has had “5 minute talks” where any Tau Bate can give a 5 minute talk about any topic of their choosing (literally anything). This semester, I am hoping to bring something similar to the Cornerstone which I am tentatively calling “1 minute reads”, so if you have a topic you would like to share about please send me a (reasonably) short paragraph via email at tbp.historian@umich.edu or on Slack, and I will include it in the Cornerstone.

For this week, I will instead use this to talk about football. In college football, Georgia beat Alabama to win their first national championship in 40 years after beating Michigan less than 2 weeks ago. In NFL football, the regular season has ended and I am incredibly sad that the Charger and Raiders did not tie. Thanks to the league worst Jaguars winning, both teams would've made the playoffs with a tie, but despite going down to the wire in OT, the Raiders won. Big sad.

Game Corner

In the future, I will try to include more variety of puzzles, but for now enjoy Sudoku!
