Letter From the Historian

Hey actives! It seems like it has been a little while since the last Actives meeting, but hopefully everyone is surviving midterm season and had a good fall break! Today is a voting meeting and we will be voting on the electee candidates as well as a few changes to our Constitution. Technically, our electees are not electees until they have been voted on at second and third actives, so please stay for the meeting so we can maintain a 75% quorum and welcome over 50 new electees!

-Daniel Pert, TBP Historian

“One Minute Reads”

You better watch out, because our new President, Santa Ono, is coming to town! Santa Ono was born in Vancouver, Canada, and received his bachelor’s degree in biological science from the University of Chicago in 1984 and a PhD in experimental medicine from McGill University in Canada in 1991. He served as faculty at Emory University, Johns Hopkins University, University College London, and Harvard, where he contributed to the field of gene regulation in the immune system and to the understanding of inflammation in the eye. He later served as presidents of the Universities of Cincinnati and British Columbia and was named as America’s most notable university president in 2015 due to his investments in the campus and academics at University of Cincinnati. Eligibility Code

In order that there may be a more uniform basis for selection of members for Tau Beta Pi, these suggestions are offered. It is expected that a copy of this statement be given each active member before every election, and it may at times serve as a general expression of our policy in the selection of members.

It is the purpose of the Society to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their alma mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as students, or by their attainments as alumni. Distinguished scholarship, while the primary requisite for admission, must not be considered the sole criterion. After the scholastic requirements have been fulfilled, the selection shall be based on integrity, breadth of interest both inside and outside of engineering, adaptability, and unselfish activity.

We consider that true integrity is the sine qua non for membership in Tau Beta Pi, that it transcends in importance scholarship, activity, and every other qualification. Without private and public integrity, we believe that no organization is worthy of existence. Under integrity, we include honor and high standards of truth and justice. Breadth of interest sufficient for eligibility in this Association will enable people to maintain their positions in their community by the exercise of qualities other than engineering ability.

True engineers must be able to adapt themselves ingeniously to all circumstances and conditions, making them conform to the desired purpose. The rating of people on the degree of unselfish activity manifested, is intended to indicate that Tau Beta Pi believes that none can become worthy engineers without the welfare of associates, organizations, and the community at heart. It is furthermore expected that they display willingness to aid and assist in worthy causes by their actual campus record. However, the fact that people may not have shown unselfish activity to an appreciable degree throughout their courses of study is no infallible indication that they would not if the opportunity offered. The most conspicuous illustrations of this are those students who are self supporting, for which due allowance must be made and due credit given.

In fine, it is in this capacity for the unstinted giving of their best, without thought of remuneration, that we believe lies one of the most sensitive tests for determining candidates' rights to bear the name and wear the Bent of Tau Beta Pi.
