Letter from the Editor

Howdy y'all!

Welcome to Fifth General! I hope that everyone has some exciting plans for Thanksgiving (if you celebrate it). And let it be known that “staying in your apartment alone and playing videogames” still totally qualifies as an exciting plan. It’s what I’ll be doing.

I’m very excited to taste what all the electee teams have baked and hear the yells they’ve written. I have some high expectations based on the performances from previous years...

Have a great break everyone!

This is Ben, Megan’s dog! According to her, he’s a bit of an idiot that doesn’t understand the fundamental concept of fetch.
