

The Cornerstone

Volume 23, Issue 9

December 2nd, 2019

Letter from the Editor

Howdy y'all!

Happy Election Day! It's possibly the greatest holiday of the year, and it has all the classic holiday elements: lots of food, debate that gets a little too heated sometimes, Robert's Rules, and multiple sign-in codes to make sure you were actually present (just like family Thanksgiving).

This will be my last-ever Cornerstone, so I wish everyone good luck on their finals and in their future endeavors. I hope I gave you a few chuckles and satisfied your desire for puppy photos, but you'll have to find a new source for both from here on out. Thanks for the great semester, and good luck to the next Historian!

That's all folks,
– Josh Polzin

Mel, my puppy! Left is a photo of her now, right is a photo of her a few months ago (when she had more puppy forehead folds).

Upcoming Events:

LinkedIn Headshots

Dec 5, 3 - 4 PM

KnitWits III

Dec 5, 7 – 8:30 PM

Grad Speaker Series

Dec 6, 12 – 1:30 PM

Kiwanis

Dec 7, 9 AM – 1 PM

Banquet

Dec 7, 6 PM – 9 PM

NCSI Talk

Dec 9, 12 – 1 PM

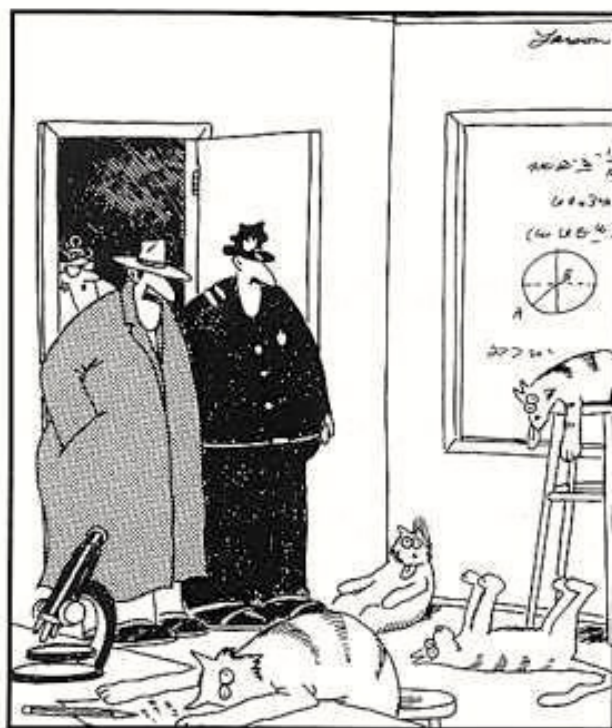

New Initiatives IV

Dec 10, 6:30 – 7:30 PM

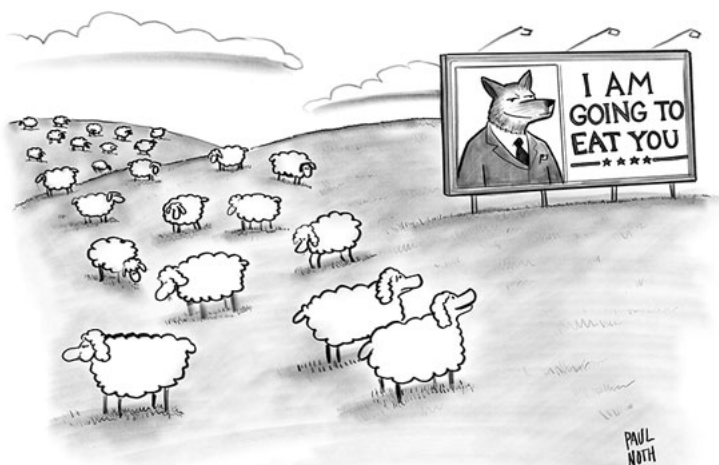

ENGR 101 Post-Exam Snacks

Dec 16, 9 – 10 AM

	7		4		2
							8
9	8	4		3	6
8	6		1		5	9
		7			4
	4	9		3		2	1
		8		6	3	5	4
6
		3		2		6

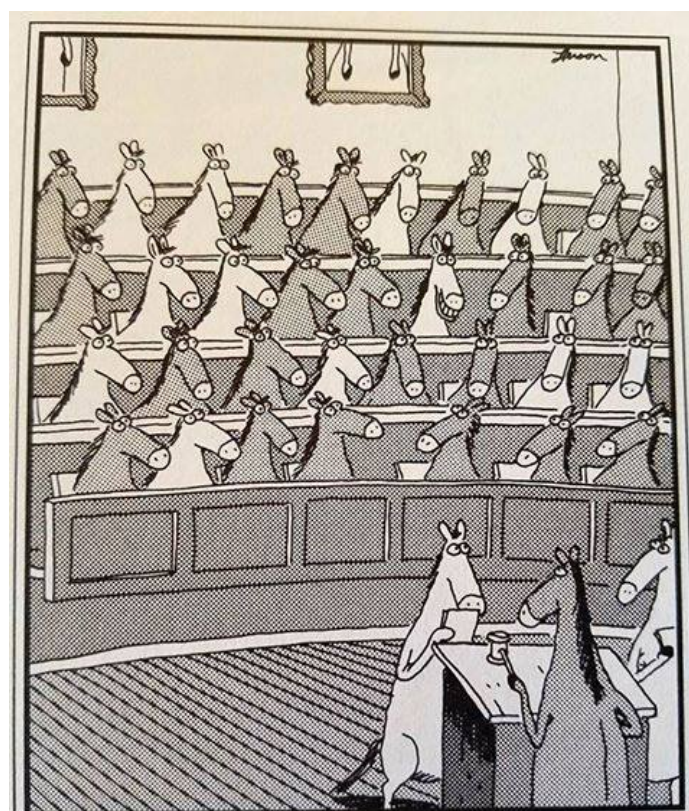

"Notice all the computations, theoretical scribbles, and lab equipment, Norm. ...
Yes, curiosity killed these cats."

"He tells it like it is."

		9	1				4
	2	8				7	6
	5			6
		3	8	9	6
8				1			7
			2	7	4	8
				4			9
2		6				1	8
	3				8	6

The entire parliament fell dead silent.
For the first time since anyone could remember,
one of the members voted "aye."